IN REMEMBRANCE

We dedicate this Annual Report to three cherished Selfhelp friends:

Dr. Peter Model, Karin Shewer Krugman, and Sandra Priest Rose.

Peter, Karin, and Sandy each gave unwaveringly of their time, talent, and resources to enhance the quality of later life. They left an extraordinary legacy at Selfhelp for which they will always be remembered.

Forever in our hearts

DEAR FRIENDS,

We want to tell you a story about John.

John was a member of Selfhelp's Maspeth Senior Center for years, attending classes, enjoying meals, and being part of a caring community. One day, he suffered a stroke, making it difficult to continue attending the center on a regular basis.

He was referred to the Virtual Senior Center (VSC), a Selfhelp program created to ensure that homebound seniors can stay connected through classes on a live and interactive platform.

We are excited by the challenges and opportunities of working with a generation that is living longer.

"I'm a helper. Being a helpee was very difficult for me," John shared.

However, John quickly learned that he can have both roles as a member and facilitator on the VSC. "It enhanced my life. I gained knowledge. The world is open. I can go anywhere." John is also able to share his knowledge and passion with other participants.

With your support, Selfhelp has been able to expand the VSC, which is now also available in Chinese, Korean, Russian, and Spanish. Over 400 older adults have opportunities to stay connected in their native language, through classes that interest them.

We are excited by the challenges and opportunities of working with a generation that is living longer – a trend we all know will continue. This means developing innovations, technologies, caring solutions, and more that will enable older adults to stay engaged and healthy as they age....advances we can all hope to benefit from as we age too.

At Selfhelp, we already know what researchers, social workers, and doctors agree on – a sense of purpose is key to staying healthy and living a long and meaningful life. John found support and meaning through his involvement with the VSC. Our 20,000 clients also find meaning through our affordable housing and other active aging programs.

In the following pages, you'll learn more about the ways in which your support enables our clients to thrive at home and in their communities through a variety

MISSION

Selfhelp is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to maintaining the independence and dignity of seniors and at-risk populations through a spectrum of housing, home health care, and social services and will lead in applying new methods and technologies to address changing needs of its community. Selfhelp will continue to serve as the “last surviving relative” to its historic constituency, victims of Nazi persecution.

We believe in making New York a better place to age. Through new programs that address unmet needs, advocating for government funding and policies, and working with our partners to conduct

HOLOCAUST SURVIVOR PROGRAM

We hold sacred the promise that we made in 1936 – to remain the last surviving relative for survivors of the Holocaust. With approximately 45,000 survivors living in New York, and 50% living at or below the federal poverty line, the needs of this population grow more intense every year. However, our commitment has never been stronger. We are honored to have touched the lives of 4,300 survivors last year through personalized case management, home care, and opportunities for dancing, socializing, and more.

THE PROMISE WE MADE 81 YEARS AGO REMAINS TRUE TODAY. FOR US, THIS IS PERSONAL.

With support from the Jewish Federations of North America through the National Holocaust Survivor Initiative, Selfhelp is embarking on an outreach program to identify and serve additional survivors of the Holocaust as well as train our community partners to identify survivors and connect them to resources.

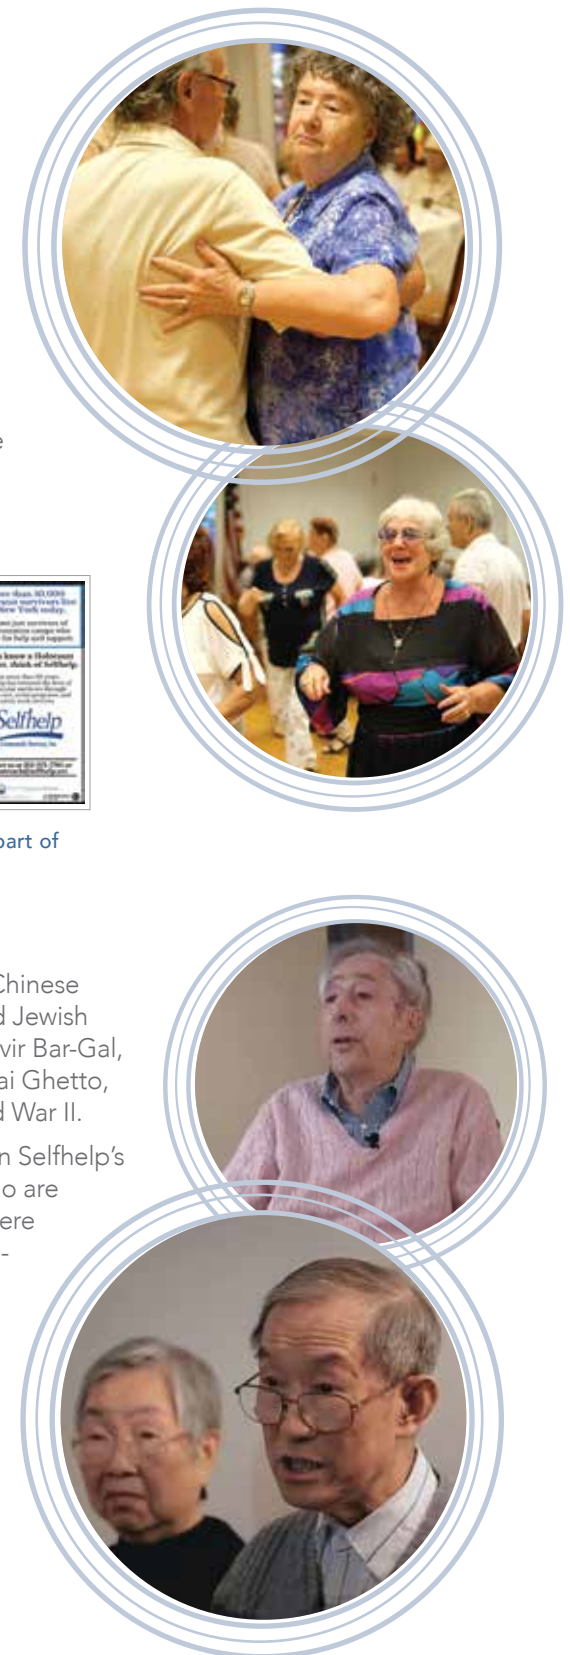

Two of the advertisements placed in newspapers as part of our outreach effort.

SHANGHAI EVENT

On June 6th, Selfhelp hosted a gathering of Chinese residents of Shanghai during World War II and Jewish refugees who lived in the Shanghai Ghetto. Dvir Bar-Gal, a leading expert on the history of the Shanghai Ghetto, spoke of the history of Shanghai during World War II.

This event celebrated the connection between Selfhelp's past and present – the Holocaust survivors who are our historic constituency and the reason we were founded back in 1936, along with the Chinese-speaking community we so proudly serve today in Flushing and throughout New York. Though there were differences in language and culture, the two communities suffered side by side. They were, and continue to be, linked by a shared experience. The event gave voice to both communities to share their stories of adversity, strength, resilience, and survival.

GETTING CONNECTED THROUGH LIFELONG LEARNING

VIRTUAL SENIOR CENTER (VSC)

In creating an online community of seniors with limited mobility, the Virtual Senior Center serves as both a lifeline and an opportunity for participants to learn, share their passions, and have fun.

On top of the personal relationships, the program serves as a link to the digital world. Participants gain comfort with technology, utilizing the computer to join classes, email, Skype with their family, read the news, browse the web, play games, and more.

WHAT'S NEXT FOR THE VSC?

We're excited about the progress we've made in providing engaging and compelling socialization experiences for the participants, and we look ahead to our next steps. We are currently working with partners to establish the VSC as a tool to manage chronic conditions and to deliver geriatric mental health counseling.

On top of the personal relationships, the program serves as a link to the digital world.

WHAT DOES LIVING INDEPENDENTLY MEAN TO YOU?

FROM SELFHELP CLIENTS

I am my own person and no one can dictate what I should do. I can plan my own day and schedule. I can take care of my own finances and pay my bills. I do not have to depend on my children. I can stay in my own apartment and take care of myself.

Do you know how old I am?
I'm 100 and a half; I live in my own home, have my aides come in, and I don't need to bother anybody.

I know I have life ahead of me.

I take care of myself!

Living in my own apartment, handling my affairs, being active, and volunteering.

I can think, feel, and act without relying on others to direct me.

我能够随心所欲去做任何事情而不需要麻烦别人,这就是我渴望的有品质的人生。我拥有经济独立,意愿独立,并且能够选择自己的生活方式,不受他人的限制。

I am able to do anything I want without bothering others. This is the quality of life I desire. I have financial independence, independence in choosing my lifestyle, and free will.

Getting up in the morning in a safe place and being able to do what I want to do. I am in charge of my day.

有充分的資訊讓我知道如何自己解決問題,或如何尋找協助解決問題。

Having sufficient information either to guide me to solve a problem by myself, or knowing where to find help to solve a problem.

Living my life on my own terms despite getting older.

我覺得身心無憂無慮,就是生活獨立自主。

Feeling physically and mentally worry free.

There is nothing more important than having my own apartment. My freedom is here.

As long as I'm trying to be independent, I have life.

Vivir independiente me hace sentir mejor, porque puedo vivir en la comodidad de mi hogar, y puedo encargarme de mis actividades diarias.

Living independently makes me feel better, I can manage myself, live in the comfort of my home, and I'm able to manage my affairs.

חשיבותו של זמן פנוי היא שניתן לעשות בו דברים שאני אוהב לעשות, כמו להנות מסרט או לבלות עם וחברים.

Being free to do the things that I enjoy doing, like going to the movies and spending time with my friends.

SENIOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING, NATURALLY OCCURRING RETIREMENT COMMUNITIES (NORCS), AND REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENT

“Being independent means being able to explore the neighborhood where I grew up.”

In order to meet the needs of older New Yorkers who want to age in the communities they call home, Selfhelp is building more senior housing throughout New York City and Long Island.

In February, we officially opened Van Cortlandt Green, our first residence in the Bronx, providing high-quality housing to 85 low-income older adults.

Construction is underway at 333 Lenox Road in the East Flatbush section of Brooklyn.

This new residence is scheduled to open in spring of 2018. Selfhelp is among the first affordable housing providers to receive funding through the State’s Empire State Supportive Housing Initiative for this project.

Selfhelp was part of a coalition of affordable housing stakeholders that successfully advocated for New York State to include $125 million in the final budget to fund the construction of new senior affordable housing throughout the State.

IN PROGRESS

WYANDANCH

Called Wyandanch Village, this site will be developed with the Albanese Group and will include 120 units for seniors.

FREEPORT

Designed by Daniel Libeskind and his studio, Bergen Place in Freeport is projected to be a 44 unit residence.

Residents in Selfhelp's Housing are Healthier

Selfhelp believes that the best outcomes for older adults are achieved when social services support client health. Our research work proves this, too. Together with our partners, we continue to conduct research to enable more people to age in the way they want to – in their homes and communities, engaged, and healthy.

With the generous support of JPMorgan Chase, Selfhelp conducted a study of the residents in our senior affordable housing program. Comparing Medicaid data for residents in our housing to other seniors living in the same zip codes over two years, we found:

68%

Lower odds of Selfhelp residents being hospitalized

$1,778

The average Medicaid payment per person, per hospitalization for Selfhelp residents, versus $5,715 for the comparison group

53%

Lower odds of a Selfhelp resident visiting an emergency room compared to a non-Selfhelp resident

We know that housing plus services, if and when requested, is the right model. Now we want to expand it, and offer more housing options that best meets the needs of older adults. Selfhelp will continue to work with our partners and policymakers to make more senior housing options available.

To better understand how the model achieves these outcomes, we are conducting further research as one of 20 organizations selected to participate in the Health Outcomes Demonstration Project, a joint effort by NeighborWorks America (Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation) and Enterprise Community Partners.

COMMUNITY GUARDIAN PROGRAM

Since 1990, Selfhelp's Community Guardian Programs have served over 1,500 clients, enabling them to live in their homes. Selfhelp currently manages the affairs of clients ages 23 to 103 with severe health and mental health conditions, those facing evictions, and other vulnerable individuals.

Meet Yajaira Brown, a case worker in our NYC Community Guardian Program:

"My role as case worker is to advocate for clients to stay in their homes. The majority of the clients we serve are facing eviction, financial exploitation by family or friends, or suffering from severe health conditions. When a client is facing eviction, our social workers, accountants, housing specialists, and lawyers work as a team to keep them in their homes. That changes the client's life because they won't need to go to a shelter."

HER AVERAGE DAY

"No two days are alike, and many days take place in the field. I visit clients in their home, take them to appointments, go to court, and anything else that might come up."

WHY DOES SHE DO THIS WORK?

"I always wanted to help others, and it makes me feel good that I am able to change somebody's life for the better. I want to get up every morning and feel happy that I am going to do something that I enjoy. Helping and giving are the most beautiful gifts that a person can give."

TRAINING GENERATIONS TO CARE FOR YOUNG AND OLD

HOME CARE

Through our home care programs, we train the next generation of caregivers to fulfill our mission in countless homes throughout New York. In 1936, Selfhelp started training German Jewish refugees to serve as home care workers. Today, we are committed to providing opportunities to those seeking meaningful work as caregivers in our home care program, many of whom are immigrants.

Through our Certified Home Health Agency (CHHA), we are able to serve patients with a physical therapy or nursing need, even if they were not in the hospital or rehab facility.

New York Today: A Holocaust Survivor's Story, on Stage

New York Today
By JONATHAN WOLFE | APRIL 16, 2017

Good morning on this lovely Tuesday.

Jacqueline Kimmelsteil didn't have a childhood.

Mrs. Kimmelsteil and her family spent 12 years moving through cities and small towns throughout France during the Holocaust.

"I had no youth, I had no teen years, and no education," Mrs. Kimmelsteil said through tears during a recent interview in her tiny apartment in the Bronx. "I'm 89 years old and it bothers me to this day, that I didn't get an education."

She is one of 32 Holocaust survivors whose life stories will be told on a stage in New York City and in Scarsdale in the coming weeks as part of Witness Theater, a program that pairs high school students and Holocaust survivors to create works for the stage.

There are an estimated 50,000 Holocaust survivors in the New York City area, nearly twice as many as in the rest of the United States, according to Selfhelp Community Services, a nonprofit organization that conducts research on Holocaust survivors and is one of the largest providers of services for them.

Sonia Klein, a client in Selfhelp's Brooklyn Holocaust Survivor Program, was featured in a CNN video and op-ed about her reaction to this year's events in Charlottesville.

Holocaust survivor: Silence is 'approval' of racism 03:04

Story highlights

The biggest mistake that was made during the Holocaust was that people didn't speak up, says Sonia K., a survivor.

We must stand against anti-Semitism and racism, or we could find ourselves repeating a regrettable history, she says.

New York, including Holocaust survivors.

OPINION — When I came to the United States in 1949 after the Second World War, the world had just witnessed the horrific culmination of centuries of anti-Semitism: the inextinguishable murder of 6 million Jews.

In the 1930s, we all believed that nothing like the Holocaust could ever happen, and for the past seven decades, we've said that nothing like it can ever happen again.

Editor's Note: Sonia K. is a Holocaust survivor who was forced to live in the Warsaw Ghetto before being taken to Majdanek, Auschwitz, Ravensbrück, and Mauthausen concentration camps. She was liberated in April of 1945 by American soldiers in Mittelwald, Germany. Sonia went on to have a family and open the first Jewish business in Mittelwald after the war. She currently lives in Brooklyn, New York, where she volunteers with Holocaust, Arab and State of Israel donors. Sonia is a client in Selfhelp Community Services' Brooklyn Holocaust Survivor Program. Selfhelp is a nonprofit that supports seniors and at-risk populations in New York, including Holocaust survivors.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTIONS

HOLOCAUST SURVIVOR PROGRAM

The oldest and largest program in North America providing comprehensive services to over 4,300 Holocaust survivors, Selfhelp offers a full continuum of care, including enhanced case management, home health care, housekeeping, financial management/guardianship, social programs, emergency financial assistance, and more.

VIRTUAL SENIOR CENTER

Selfhelp's acclaimed Virtual Senior Center offers homebound seniors the opportunity to engage and connect with one another and the outside world through stimulating classes and programs. A cornerstone of the program is the real-time instructor-led classes where participants learn about topics and interact with one another to reduce social isolation.

AFFORDABLE SENIOR HOUSING

Selfhelp's ten affordable apartment buildings offer seniors the opportunity to lead independent lives in a warm and supportive environment. At each building, we offer the Selfhelp Active Services for Aging Model (SHASAM), which makes available social work services, education, and recreation, as well as access to skilled nursing and home care.

HOME HEALTH CARE

A leading provider of home health care in the New York City metropolitan area, Selfhelp delivers over two million hours of home care annually to elderly, frail individuals and families at-risk. Services are designed to maintain independent living and include skilled nursing, assistance with activities of daily living, housekeeping, homemaking and therapeutic care. Selfhelp's highly regarded training program provides high-caliber education and certification to home health aides.

SENIOR CENTERS

Selfhelp's five senior centers, including one of the first to be designated by the City of New York as an Innovative Senior Center, offer a wide variety of life-enhancing programs such as computer classes, concerts and lectures, health and wellness workshops, as well as nutritious meals for seniors living in the surrounding communities. Three of these senior centers are now key sites for Selfhelp's expanding Virtual Senior Center.

CASE MANAGEMENT

Selfhelp's three comprehensive Case Management programs help seniors through a collaborative process of assessment, planning, facilitation, care coordination, evaluation, and advocacy. Social workers provide expert assistance in accessing entitlements and benefits, as well as financial assistance, home delivered meals and chore services. The goal is to enable vulnerable seniors to continue to live independently in their own homes.

SENIOR SOURCE

For adults seeking a portal of entry for all health and other forms of care, Senior Source provides access to a Care Manager, seven days a week. A fee-for-service geriatric care management program, Senior Source helps clients and their families navigate the maze of health care and residential options, monitor and support ongoing care, and prepare for future care needs.

ALZHEIMER'S PROGRAMS

The Selfhelp Alzheimer's Resource Program (SHARP) provides social adult day care, assessment and referral, together with music therapy and other social activities for individuals in the early to mid-stages of Alzheimer's disease. The program also offers support groups for caregivers.

COMMUNITY GUARDIAN PROGRAM

Selfhelp's Guardianship Programs serve as court-appointed legal guardian for clients referred by Adult Protective Services (APS) in NYC and the Department of Social Services in Nassau County, who are over 18 years of age and unable to manage their financial or domestic affairs.

NATURALLY OCCURRING RETIREMENT COMMUNITIES (NORCS)

Selfhelp NORC programs provide senior residents in four large cooperative housing complexes with the supportive services they need to continue living in their own homes. Selfhelp's on-site services include case management, counseling, health screenings, and social, recreational, and educational programs.

CARE TRANSITIONS

Aimed at reducing the rate of hospital readmissions, our Care Transitions program provides coaching and short term case management to patients at three hospitals in Queens who are identified as being at risk of readmission. Coaching takes place in the hospital, at home and via telephone during the first 30-days post discharge. The goal is to maximize understanding and compliance with discharge plans as well as to improve access to health and social services as needed.

TELEHEALTH AND COGNITIVE SERVICES

Our telehealth and cognitive service systems empower seniors to be proactive in caring for their health. User friendly kiosks allow participants to self-monitor clinical health measurements, whereas computers enable them to monitor cognitive fitness through rigorous yet entertaining mental exercises. If there is a sudden change in health or mental acuity a nurse or staff member will be notified to take appropriate action.

NY CONNECTS

Selfhelp's NY Connects Program in Queens provides individuals, caregivers and professionals with consistent, comprehensive, local-based information and referrals regarding long-term services and supports. Our staff work with callers to assess, plan, coordinate, and evaluate the services required to meet their unique medical, emotional, financial, physical and social needs.

CONFERENCE ON JEWISH MATERIAL CLAIMS AGAINST GERMANY

Selfhelp and the Claims Conference share a strong and collaborative history dating back more than five decades. Generous Claims Conference funding has enabled Selfhelp to expand services to meet the growing needs of Holocaust survivors living in the

New York metropolitan area. With their support, Selfhelp now provides services in Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Nassau County and has broadened services in Manhattan and Queens. In addition, the Claims Conference has been instrumental in negotiating additional funding from the German government to increase vitally needed home health care. Their efforts have enabled thousands of survivors to remain in their own communities and live with dignity. We are ever grateful for such critical funding, which helps provide this aging and fragile population with the care they rightfully deserve.

Selfhelp also receives major funding from:

FRAN EIZENSTAT LEGACY PROJECT (formerly Project Legacy)

Project Legacy was created to ensure the necessary funding to care for the last generation of Holocaust survivors – specifically those who are frail, alone, and, much too often, impoverished.

As part of this project, we have recently launched a special initiative to assist the growing number of Holocaust survivors in need from the Former Soviet Union.

It is most fitting that this vital project has been renamed to honor the memory of Fran Eizenstat who deeply believed in its mission. Ambassador Stuart Eizenstat serves as the Project's Honorary Chairman.

UJA-FEDERATION OF NEW YORK

A Core Partner of UJA-Federation of New York since 1983, Selfhelp Community Services is the recipient of generous funding and program grants including critical support for our Holocaust Survivor Program, Witness Theater, case management programs, Virtual Senior Center and a multitude of essential organizational services. Just as importantly, the warm partnership that Selfhelp enjoys with our colleagues at UJA-Federation has offered us entrée to their network of relationships throughout the New York City community. We are exceptionally grateful for initiatives that have enabled us to leverage UJA support, such as the New York Times Neediest Campaign, advocacy work with government agencies, and introductions to individuals and foundations. We take this opportunity to publicly thank UJA-Federation of New York for their steadfast support and commitment to Selfhelp Community Services.

SELFHELP NEXTGEN

Selfhelp NextGen is a dynamic group of young professionals from the New York City area deeply committed to Selfhelp's mission of maintaining the independence and dignity of seniors and at-risk populations.

The group maintains a special focus on enhancing the lives of Holocaust survivors, and seeks to ensure the promise made by our founders: to serve as the "last surviving relative" to victims of Nazi persecution.

Since its inception in 2010, Selfhelp NextGen has organized volunteer projects, film screenings, and outreach events in an effort to educate their peers regarding the needs of some of the most vulnerable members of our community. To get involved or learn more, visit www.selfhelp.net/selfhelp-nextgen or email sperlman@selfhelp.net.

SELFHELP CHINESE ADVISORY COUNCIL

Selfhelp provides vital services to approximately 5,000 Asian immigrants, majority of whom are low-income seniors who have emigrated from China.

To address their unique needs, Selfhelp's Chinese Advisory Council (CAC) was created in 2015 and is comprised of prominent members of the Chinese-American community.

Their primary focus is to identify resources and raise community awareness regarding the needs of the Chinese elders served by Selfhelp. For additional information about the CAC, please contact our Development Department at (212) 971-7764.
