101st Birthday of Clearview Older Adults Center Resident Celebrated with Community, Elected Officials

(Bayside, Queens) – This afternoon, Ming Hwa Lee, a longtime resident of Clearview Older Adults Center, celebrated her 101st birthday alongside community members and local elected officials. She received proclamations from the offices of multiple local elected officials who have supported the Clearview Adults Center, including Queens Borough President Donovan Richards, NYS Assemblyman Edward Braunstein, NYS Senator Toby Stavisky, and NYC Councilwoman Vicky Paladino.

Selfhelp Community Service operates Clearview Older Adults Center and multiple senior centers throughout Queens.

“We are so thankful to the local elected officials who came out to celebrate Ming Lee’s special day and who provide crucial resources to Selfhelp. Their support is essential for ensuring the success of our Clearview Older Adult Center and services across Queens which provide community, healthcare, and housing to thousands of clients like Ming Lee.” said Mohini Mishra, Vice President of Senior Communities at Selfhelp.
